Pharmacy-based strategies that support blood pressure health

The pharmacy-administered BPGAP program supports Fairview clinic efforts to improve the rate of patients meeting their blood pressure goals. Clinic providers can refer patients to the BPGAP program. Pharmacists enroll patients in the program and provide:

- Blood pressure checks
- Education about blood pressure and patient-specific goals
- Recommendations for appropriate follow-up
- Recording of blood pressure measurements and recommendations in the patient's electronic health record

Integration within the clinic system allows for direct communication and collaboration with providers.

The importance of good blood pressure more likely to die from a heart disease when blood pressure is high more likely to die from a stroke when blood pressure is high
